Cheryl Burgess assists Bryan Orzco Zarco and Rosa Espinoza, first couple to get a marriage application notarized at BPL

BPL Notarizes Its First Marriage Applications under New State Law

Due to the new Alabama marriage application law that went into effect August 29, 2019, the Birmingham Public Library is expecting a spike in demand for its notary services. The new law no longer requires a couple to apply for a marriage license at their local probate court. Instead, they have to complete the Alabama Marriage Certificate form, have it notarized, and turn it in to the probate court within 30 days of completion. Once the certificate is recorded, you are considered married.
