Birmingham, Ala. Police Department
Surveillance Files, 1947-1980

Background:

These files were transferred to the Archives Department in 1990 from the custody of the Birmingham Police Department Vice Unit. The Birmingham Police Department compiled these files but it is not known if other units of the department had maintained the files previously or if this collection constitutes one distinct set of files or a combination of various earlier sets of files.

Scope and Content:

The Birmingham, Alabama Police Department Surveillance Files contain memoranda, correspondence, photographs, newspaper clippings, interviews, and other material relating to a variety of individuals, organizations, and events. Individuals and organizations represented in the files include civil rights activists, white supremacists, anti-war protestors, and individuals involved in criminal activities. Events represented in the files include Birmingham area bombings and protests.

The files are arranged alphabetically under the subject headings assigned by the Birmingham Police Department. In some cases material relating to an event or individual will be contained in different files under different headings. For this reason the researcher is advised to scan the entire guide to the collection.
